It Will Soon Pass

If things move a little bit slower or we seem to be a bit absent minded this week don't pay any attention to our attitude.

Frankly, we are concentrating on making "believers" out of a couple of stubborn friends that the St. Louis Cardinals will beat the New York Yankees in the World Series.

Bits O' Bissness

John White and wife Carolyn were pleased with the reception given their new TV Sales and Service Store on Tuesday night in Pahokee last week-end.

Remember - wait to buy your light bulbs from a Lion.

Someone will be knocking at your door next Tuesday night on their annual Save Sight - Buy Light Program.

G. A. C. Finance Company

moved into their new quarters at the end of the week. The new building is a nice drop in and see for yourself.

The Sewing Machine Center

on Avenue A was in a dither last week. One of their customers came in and complained about the Zis-Zag machine she had purchased. The machine wouldn't sew put her right. Seems the lady had been trying to zig when she should have zipped.

There's now a more expansive black store frontage on Avenue A.

... awaiting the Red Shutter firm for the firm's new men's wear addition. At Kahn turned carpenter this week to help speed the opening date.

If the girls down at Glades Drug Store seem a bit preoccupied getting ready for another big sale. Don't miss this annual event... watch for announcements in THE HERALD.

We hated losing Thornbury

We note the improved new look of Royal's Department Store

Holland Plans Vigorous Campaign Following Adjournment Of Congress

Immediately following adjournment of the session of Congress, Senator Spessard Holland returned to the state to begin a vigorous personal campaign during the remaining weeks before November 3 in his drive toward re-election for a fourth term as Florida's senior United States Senator.

"In order to do the job which I am elected, I have had to shuttle between Washington and the state as the work of the Senate permits, and being a 'constant campaigner' has been far from satisfactory. I look forward in the weeks ahead to meeting with many of our citizens in person as possible."

"I will wage from now until Election Day an aggressive campaign which is the only way I know to win. That is the sort of activity that I enjoy for it gives me the opportunity to personally visit with large numbers of old friends in all parts of the state, and to discuss face to face the problems with which we are most concerned. It also permits me to meet and talk with a vigorous personal campaign during the remaining weeks brought through growth and progress of our state."

Senator Holland's first post-adjournment appearance was in Cocoa where he participated with Congressman Candidate Tom Kenney in a fund-raising dinner. Subsequent appearances will be in Miami, Bradenton, Orlando, Brooksville, Fort Lauderdale, Tallahassee, Sebring, Riverview, Gainesville, St. Petersburg, Tampa, Jacksonville, Perry, West Palm Beach, and other cities.

An ardent supporter of Florida college football, Senator Holland, who played end in his undergraduate days, will be in the stands during the course of his campaign to watch the Fighting Gators and the FSU Seminoles in their respective Homecoming gridiron clashes.

Adult Education Enrollment Good

Says Mr. Marques

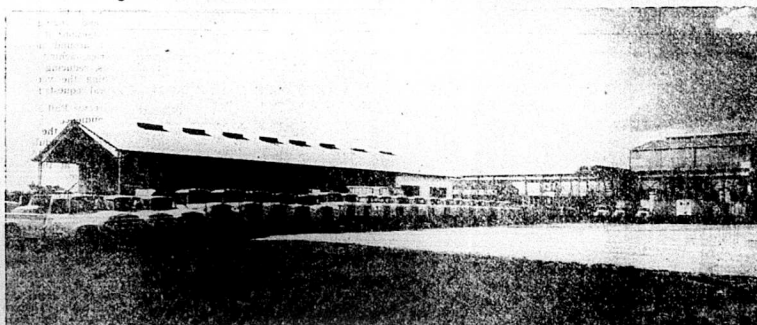

The Adult High School Education program, which began at the Belle Glade High School, is showing a good enrollment of 30 students each night. These classes provide curriculum for people to complete their high school education, where they might not, otherwise, have the chance to do so.

Mr. Vince Marques, coordinator, states that he is well pleased with the enrollment, as it is almost double what the State of Florida requires, for setting up these courses. "Later on," Mr. Marques continues, "we plan to make a study of these adults, based on their age, sex, number of children, etc., and hope to set up with an 'average student'."

Classes are held Monday through Thursday nights, from 7 to 10 p. m., with teachers and students following the Helen Cline, English-38 students; Joseph Hayes, Social Studies-32 students; and Vida Harde, Mathematics-27 students.

A course in Industrial Arts is also offered, with Mr. Bert Ward, teaching. This class met for the first time on October 1. A high school credit will be given at the completion of this 12 week course.

ND Seed Potatoes Reported Good But Short Supply

The North Dakota State Seed Department reports that potato growers report from 15 to 25% less potatoes this season.

Early excessive moisture resulted in substantial acreage loss. Continuous hot weather during July affected the set in many areas. The remaining crop that weathered the extremes of heat and early excess moisture is outstanding in quality. North Dakota potatoes arriving at the markets, both seed and table have never been better!

Enthusiastic reports are coming in on new varieties that have been introduced recently by North Dakota researchers. Tests have been made in various potato growing areas of the Nation and have proven unusually successful. These new varieties will soon replace some of the older ones.

Favorable reports are coming in on ND4192-3 from Colorado, Idaho, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Oregon, Washington and parts of Texas and California where they have been tested. They hold their type and shape well. They cook exceptionally white and are excellent for general table use.

Only 2,200 acres of certified N. D. 4192-3 russet seed was produced in North Dakota this year so the supply is limited. All varieties of North Dakota certified seed potatoes are enjoying an active demand for immediate and future shipments.

More than $18 million is expected to find its way into operation of the county school system and another $74 million for operation of the county. Central and South Florida Flood Control District draws the third highest amount — a total of $327,527.43.

Sub drainage districts through out the county will get nearly $1 million in taxes and the balance of the collections will go to special hospital, inlet and other district levies.

Close Conservation No. 2 At Night Is Recommendation Of Committee

A strong recommendation to close Water Conservation Area 2 to the public at night has been voiced by the Palm Beach-Broward Counties Recreational Development Committee. Bob Kleiser of West Palm Beach, Committee Chairman, explained that night-time use of the big Everglades area has aggravated problems of poaching, alligators and game, as well as thievery of boats and motors and vandalism of equipment. Jack Horner of Palm Beach, Vice Chairman of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District, organized the two-county Recreation Committee.

The recommended restrictions would not apply during the hunting season. Also persons having campsites in the Area (which have been authorized by the Game Commission) could apply for special permits for night-time use, the Committee suggested.

In other business, the Palm Beach-Broward Committee was advised that a contract to fill and grade two new 5-acre recreation sites along U. S. Highway 27 has been awarded to E. and I. Inc., of Fort Lauderdale. John Strutch, FCD Recreation Director, explained that the Game and Fish Commission plans to proceed with bids for concession developments at the sites while the filling and grading is underway.

The recreation areas are both located about 15 miles west of Fort Lauderdale. One is on the east side of U. S. Highway 27, about 1 and one-half miles north of Andytown. The other is about 5 miles south of Andytown on the west side of U. S. Highway 27, adjacent to FCD pumping station 9. They will provide public access to Conservation Areas 2 and 3, respectively. Area 3 covers 814 square miles in Broward and Dade Counties.

Bob Kleiser said it is expected that the new concession developments will be open in the first half of 1965.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

"The Church is the greatest force for the building of character and good citizenship. It is the heart of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are three basic reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake; (2) For the sake of his community; and (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plans to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily."

Hear U. L. Allen October 8-10

The Belle Glade Church of Christ invites you to attend the five remaining services of the Gospel Meeting, At 7:15 U. L. Allen teaches a class for the young from one to a hundred. This class consists of Bible songs, facts and attitudes. Parents, bring your children and reap a great blessing.

At 7:30 the regular service commences consisting of spiritual songs, fervent prayer and a stirring Bible lesson. One interesting feature is that U. L. Allen does not announce his sermon topic. Instead, he brings two sermons to the building and after the audience is assembled decides which is needed the most.

The only exception is that Saturday night he plans to talk to the young people. All ready two teens are reserved for the teenagers. We hope to add more. Teenagers, plan to attend and learn how to apply Ecclesiastes 12:1. Our plea is to attend the Gospel Meeting, bring your Bible, reason with us concerning your spiritual life. Remember the Church building is located at 125 N. W. Avenue D and truly a cordial welcome awaits you.

Select School

Clothes Carefully

Be sure your children get the proper fit in their school clothing. Miss Mary Todd, Extension Home Economist, gives some suggestions on fitting.

The shoulders should be wide and roomy enough for free movement of the arms. The garment shouldn't be so full that the shoulder seams won't stay in place, but it shouldn't bind either.

Sleeves should be roomy enough not to restrict movement and pull out from the strain.

Is the collar low enough in front to be comfortable, but snug enough in back so it won't ride up or slip down?

Look for generous hems in skirts, to allow for growth. A lot of looseness in the waistline allows for growth and means the garment can be worn for a longer time.

Blouses and skirts should be long enough to tuck in and stay tucked in.

Before buying a jacket or coat for your child to wear in cold weather, let the child try it on to see that it is roomy enough and fits easily over other clothing.

Fashion Forecast For Fall

Hemlines... silhouette... color.

Miss Mary Todd, local Home Economist, says probably the best news of all is that skirt hemlines will not change.

Slowness with ease sums up the fashionable fall silhouette. You'll see it in shifts and dresses in slim-line princess style, in longer jackets, in pants with a "skinny" look, in double-breasted coats, dresses and suits. Long sleeves, either straight and gathered into a waistband, or snug with elbow darts and no cuff accentuate the lean look.

Texture in fabrics shows up in more tightly twisted yarns, more closely woven and firmer fabrics. Classic examples of these fabrics are tweeds, and herringbones, crepe, cover cloth, gabardine. You'll see whip cords and ribbed woollens everywhere. Still in the fashion picture are looped fabrics, but the

Governor's Lesson In Fla. Moonshining Brings In Bacon

Governor Farris Bryant and Director Keating donned green fatigues, Thursday, entered a covered truck and proceeded to a secluded wooded area approximately one-half mile from the moonshine still.

There, with agents leading the way, Florida's Chief Executive and the Beverage Director battled briars and underbrush for a more complete account of how the violators work.

The Governor and Director watched from concealment as agents sprang from their hiding places and closed in on the startled still operators.

Ilander, an agent of the State Beverage Department, had infiltrated the ranks of the moonshiners in late July and was primarily responsible for the seizure on 25 persons, anticipated seizure of 19 vehicles and the destruction of more than 1500 gallons of illegal liquor since that time, according to Richard B. Keating, State Beverage Director.

Arrested Thursday and named as principals in the huge operation were Major Thomas, 33, of Gainesville, and Donald Wray Dice, 29, of Lake City.

Two huge stills, that produced 500 gallons of 'shine every few days, were destroyed near Santa Fe in North Alachua County and others which added an additional 500 gallons per week were being sought, Keating said.

This operation of 1,000 gallons per week, if allowed to continue, would divert more than $1 million per year from the legal beverage industry, more than half of which would be deposited in State and Federal Tax coffers, Keating added.

The Case Of

The New Vanishing Weekend Warriors

Not too many years ago, many, too many, people called the National Guard "Week End Warriors," "Draft Dodgers," and many other such names. Well, let's look into today's "Week End Warrior," and see if he is a "Week End Warrior," or a "Draft Dodger."

A young man reports to his Selective Service Board and finds out he is about to be drafted. Now, this young man has family responsibilities and a growing business of his own. Two years serving in the Army might just ruin him and his family, so he hears of a National Guard in his area and he goes to the Armory to learn some facts.

Here is what he learns: To join the National Guard, you must be in top physical condition, be an alert and intelligent individual, but you don't just come to a week. Oh, no! First comes the long, hard process of getting in. You take a rigid physical. If you pass that, you are tested for your mental capabilities. The National Guard wants only the best. So you had better be sharp. You are fitted for uniforms you will be required to wear. Your specialty is and you await orders to report for active duty. Yes, I said Active duty! You will go six months of active duty, and it's no weekend and it's no picnic! You will spend the first four weeks learning to be a soldier, marching, taking orders, and fundamentals of combat training. The rest of your time, you will spend in an Army School, learning your particular skill and job.

After all this training, you begin to realize that there is a little more to the National Guard than one meeting a week. When you return home to your own National Guard Unit, you learn even more. Sure, your unit only requires you to report to drill once a week, but you have learned a job, and you know when it will be needed, for the defense of this great country of ours, and your unit wants to be the best, so you find yourself putting in extra hours at the Armory, improving yourself, as well as your unit, and you find you are not alone at the Armory. Officers are there. Guys who have 4, 5, 6 and 8 years active service years behind them, but they are there also improving. So, when Drill Night comes around, you are sure you know and understand. At drills, you attend class and work on projects, each designed to improve you as a fighting man. So, the age-old names no longer apply to today's modern National Guard, "Week End Warriors," "Draft Dodgers," we are not! But a strong, intelligent, reserve force, ready to serve our country, and community, for any reason "That We Are!"

Palm Beach County Cancer Study

On November 1, the fifth annual follow-up in the American Cancer Society's massive Cancer Prevention Study will begin in Palm Beach County.

Volunteers in Palm Beach County will again report on whether the 1,500 of men and women they enrolled in the study in the fall of 1959, are alive or dead. Nation-wide, according to Judge Anne E'del Deacon, President of the Palm Beach County Unit, said the study covers more than 1,000,000 people in 1,121 counties in the United States. In 1959, those persons furnished many details about themselves and their pattern of life. They filled out questionnaires answering 250 carefully framed questions that might lead to determining if those who develop cancer differ in some ways from those who don't, with respect to environment, habits, exposures and way of life.

Valuable information has already emerged from the study. After two follow-ups, a preliminary analysis confirmed that certain danger signals had a high relationship to deaths for specific sites of cancer. It was also found that certain general physical complaints such as loss of appetite, shortness of breath, and a tendency to fatigue easily were related to the cancer death rate. Further analysis will be made.

Japanese Industrialists Observe Glades Sugar House Operation

Six Japanese industrialists from Tokyo, Japan, visited Glades Sugar House Tuesday afternoon. Bob Weller, Minneapolis Honeywell representative accompanied them on their tour.

Their plans are to construct a new mill and refinery in Tokyo. Even though sugar beets are grown in Japan, plans are to import raw cane sugar and thus the need for the refinery.

These men requested to visit the Coop Mill near Belle Glade after hearing much about its modern design. They were particularly interested in the instrumentation throughout the hobo plant. Al Weber general factory super-

Their plans are to go from here to San Francisco and then on to Utah to observe various types of sugar beet milling equipment.

Love Never Fails

by Billy Cavender

There is a true story told of a young woman who, during the Armenian atrocities, was pursued, along with her brother, by a Turkish soldier. The brother was killed by the soldier before his sister's eyes. She escaped. Later on, being a nurse, she was forced to work in a military hospital. Into her ward one day was brought this Turkish soldier. She recognized him. He was very ill. A slight neglect on her part would have been all that was necessary to insure his death. The young woman describes the struggle that ensued. The "old Adam" cried for revenge; the new Christ cried "Love." Love conquered; she nursed him as carefully as she did other patients and he began to recover. One day he recognized her. He asked her why she had not let him die. She replied, "I am a follower of Him who said, 'Love your enemies and do good to them.' He was silent. At last he spoke, 'I never knew there was such a religion. If that is your religion, tell me more about it for I want it.'"

The young woman had learned well the example the lesson of Christ. Our Lord was mocked and cursed, slapped and spit upon, stripped of his raiment, crowned with a crown of thorns, veiled and reproached, given vinegar to quench his thirst, crucified and made to die by the cruel death of the cross. Yet when the Lord was reviled, He reviled not again. When His enemies showed their hatred and contempt of Him, He prayed for them. Among His last words before death was the request "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do." Love never fails.

LOVE! It is that most excellent and most needed of all virtues and characteristics of the disciple of Christ. Its cultivation and possession makes an exciting demand upon the strongest nature. Love abideth forever: Love, is the greatest quality of life! Love never fails!

Florida Sugar's Liquid Sugar Plant

This is a view of other equipment in the plant that will be used in refining raw sugar into refined liquid sugar for use by commercial customers.

Construction on the first liquid sugar refinery in the state of Florida is to the point where about 75 per cent of the tankage is in place, according to David M. Keiser, president of North American Sugar Industries, Inc., parent company of Florida Sugar Refinery, Inc., the firm that will operate the refinery.

The warehouse has been erected and steel for the refinery and for the boiler room is in place. Part of the equipment associated with the purification process is also in place, pointing to scheduling beginning Jan. 1st.

The new refinery will produce a new Florida product called "Cascade" liquid refined sugar with an annual capacity of 100 million pounds of liquid sugar.

The new refinery will be supplied with raw sugars by Florida Sugar Corp., another subsidiary of North American Sugar Industries, Inc., and other cane growers and millers in the Okeechobee area.

A true refinery, the plant will take raw cane sugar and process it into liquid sugar. It will not take granulated sugar and melt it.

Two prime methods of processing will be employed in the refinery. The important phase of removing color will be implemented with the use of granular carbon, the most powerful color remover known. Also, impurities will be removed by a step known as the ion exchange, a positive and infallible system combining adsorption and chemistry.

All the equipment at the refinery will be fully instrumented and quality control will be effected through a fully equipped modern laboratory assuring bacteriological as well as chemical control of all phases of the operation.

The product from the $2 million refinery will be available to canners, bottlers, bakeries, processors and ice cream manufacturers in Florida.

Samples of the product have been presented to Gov. Farris Bryant, Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner and other members of the state cabinet. Conner has been of great assistance in developing interest in sugar refining and growing in Florida. He indicated it will be an important addition to Florida's sugar industry.

North American Sugar Industries, Inc., formerly Cuban American Sugar Co., until 1960 when the firm's Cuban assets were confiscated by the Castro government, is a well-versed veteran in the sugar business. The firm operates a refinery in Gramercy, La., and has grown cane in Louisiana. Its liquid sugar refinery in St. Louis, operated by another subsidiary, was one of the first in the industry and has been producing high quality liquid sugar for industrial users for over 15 years.

C. Ellis Clark, vice-president and agricultural consultant for a Miami bank, points out that latest surveys show Florida has 153,336 acres in sugar cane with estimated production of 428,000 tons. Anticipated production by the end of the 1964-65 season is 648,000 tons.

Tuckers Enjoy Fall Vacation

Back at his desk at Florida National Bank this week, Russ Tucker reports a most enjoyable late fall vacation.

"It had been several years since Mrs. Tucker and I enjoyed the scenic beauty of autumn and we found it most delightful," Russ said. "The cool weather was exhilarating, we had a wonderful time."

The Tuckers visited with their parents in Bloomfield, Indiana, with relatives in Indianapolis and with old friends in Akron, Ohio.

In Tallahassee they visited with their daughter and son-in-law and attended the FSU Kentucky football game.

PTA Hears School Bond Election Pros and Cons

The second regular meeting of the Central Cove Elementary PTA was held Monday night in the Cafeteria. Dr. J. A. Winchester, president, turned the meeting over to Mr. John Kinlaw, program chairman, who introduced the guest speakers of the evening.

The panel included Mr. Milton Carpenter, school board member; Mr. John Martin, superintendent of public instruction; Dr. J. R. Orensigo, and Mr. Harold Zumpf, Mr. Carpenter outlined the growth of Palm Beach County school-age population and projected the fiscal needs to educate these children. Mr. Martin acted as consultant to the panel. Dr. Orensigo spoke in favor of the impending bond issue and Mr. Zumpf spoke against the bonds.

Mr. Carpenter reminded the group that any county freeholder can vote, even though he did not re-register, by coming to the polling places on November 3 and presenting either a tax-receipt or a property deed, or by merely signing an affidavit that he is a freeholder of Palm Beach County. Fifty percent plus one freeholder must vote for this to be a valid election. He pointed out that 8000 students are being taught in non adequate classrooms. The bond issue would provide money for new classrooms at old schools and for new schools. None of the money would be spent for teacher salaries, athletics or student parking lots.

Dr. Orensigo pointed out that yearly in this fast growing county. He also stated that the 28-mill levy on the estimated on billion, one hundred thousand dollar valuation falls short by four million dollars of supporting our schools. The only resource at this time is to support the bond issue in the November election.

Mr. Zumpf stated that deficit spending is not good, and that he has a "pay as you go" philosophy. He suggested an alternative to the bond issue; that the county seek legislation to levy a one-cent sales tax, or that the first $2000 valuation on property be taxable before property the $5000 homestead exemption. He also pointed out that one-fifth of the property in the county brings in no revenue at all, although many children from these homes receive free education at the expense of the taxpayers. He said that this revenue presents an unfair taxation to property owners, and was a form of socialism.

Both sides agreed that the county tax assessor could increase revenues by a more realistic valuation of property, which admittedly, is a poor way of assuring his re-election.

While each child costs about $400 a year to educate, the $2000 taxable base on a 60 percent valuation at a 20 mill levy would cost the freeholder (freeholder 7) only $24 a year, which would be cheap at 10 times that price, considering only one child per household.

Mr. Zumpf pointed out that since 1932 we have come to expect the government to educate our children, as long as it gets the money from someone other than me.

Palm Glades Girl Scout Council Represented At Regional Council

Palm Glades Girl Scout Council, which comprises scouting activity in Palm Beach, Martin, St. Lucie, Indian River and Okeechobee Counties, will be represented this week at the Juliette Low Region IV 25th conference in Asheville, N. C.

Three adults including Mrs. Josephine Gallagher, council's executive director; Mrs. Roy Rood, first vice president; and Mrs. Charles Toth, second vice president, Delray, will be attending the sessions which begin on Tuesday and continue through Friday.

Mrs. Gallagher, who left on Monday with the other delegates, said a major part of this year's conference will be devoted to achievements since Sept. 1963 when the girl scout's new handbooks were released and a new design in Girl Scout program for four age levels put into effect.

One man is in the hospital and another is in jail as the result of a shooting that took place Monday evening at Radville, near Belle Glade.

Dewey McLemore is alleged to have shot Joe Womack in the back with a 12 gauge shotgun.

The shooting was the result of a quarrel the two men had over a colored woman.

McLemore is in Belle Glade jail pending a hearing this Friday, while Womack is in local hospital. He is not reported to be in a serious condition.

Region VI consists of Florida, Georgia, North and South Carolina and the Canal Zone, Mrs. Gallagher explained. Similar conferences are being conducted this fall in eleven other Girl Scout units in geographical regions across the country.

The executives director said these regional conferences, held triennially, give members of local girl scout units the opportunity to share ideas and experience with representatives in other areas and become acquainted with the latest trends and developments in Girl Scouting.

Besides the six ground sessions scheduled to provide an opportunity for directed discussion on specific topics related to progress in Girl Scouting the conference will be highlighted by a speech "Outlook-Unlimited, A Promise in Action" by Mrs. James R. Stokely, Jr., who under the name Wilma Dykesman has a reputation as a noted speaker and author. She is reared in Asheville and is now former Girl Scout, born and living in Newport, Tenn.

Rams Bow To Lake Worth

A 93 yard touchdown drive and a recovered fumble led underdog Lake Worth to a 14-0 victory over the Rams last Friday night.

This was the third time the Rams had fallen victim to the crush of an opponent since having their 23-game win streak broken this year.

The Rams, although unable to cross the goal line, still showed a strong passing game. They completed 6 of 12 passes for 40 yards. A team can't be all bad when they have a 500 passing average! Lake Worth, on the other hand, used ball control and a strong ground game to pull the upset.

For Your Information

Are you tired of being all stooped over while doing your homework because of a space shortage in your home? If you are, why not try using your mother's adjustable ironing board as a desk. It works great, and can be adjusted to fit any height.

If any of you pickle-eating teenagers become exasperated at getting those well packed pickles out of the jar, try bending an old fork to form a hook. Pickles seem to slip right out.

For you party throwing fans, save messing up your hands with cheese spread and onion dip by applying them to crackers, fruit, or vegetables with a cake decorator. This adds an attractive look to your party table.

Next time you go to a football game after it has rained, take along a plastic bag (such as your dry cleaning comes back in) to sit on. This will save your program and it folds nicely when you are ready to go.

Band Elects Officers

You can bet that the High School Band will do things in military style. Their newly chosen officers help point out this fact.

On the 25th of September, the band chose Captain, Jimmy Richardson and Lieutenant, Darlene Dupere and Mike Marotta. Then these three left to choose the Sergeant and Corporals.

The Sergeants are Jane Wieringo, Eddie Haines, Barney Weeks and Jo Vickers. The Corporals are Glenn Wolf, George Hollingsworth, Ivan Willis and Janis White. Drum Major, Buddy Dender is also considered an officer.

The amount of free time the band will have after half time at the football games is the only decision the officers have made so far.

Chatty Cathy

Well, folks, this is another version of our gossip column. Things have been coming off a little slow this week, but here goes.

If you happened to be knocked by a crutch it's just Albert K. limping down the halls. And by the way who is this we see along with him these days?

There is a new couple on the scene, Wanda L. and Sid J. at so Cary W. and Mary Leith A. Who has got the tape recorder which seems to be proving everybody guilty? Could it be Larry A.?

It seems that Laura L. has had her hair straightened. How come it is still curly?

The Art Class must be painting pictures now; every art student that walks out is in Tech-class.

That's it kids, so until next week... CHEERIO!

JV Hosts Stuart

The Belle Glade Junior Varsity will be host to the Stuart Tigers JV tonight.

The B-team record for this season is 1-1-1. After 10 wins, they lost their first game to the Forest Hill Falcons last week.

There will be several changes in the line-up for tonight, Mickey McCabe has been moved up to halfback for the Varsity and Ed Prevatt and Julio Perez both have leg injuries.

The coaches have emphasized punting during this week's practices, since this is a vital part of the offense.

Beta Club; Beta Cow

The Beta Club met Friday morning and discussed new projects for the year.

The ideas of buying a Beta Cow was originated as a money-making project. The fee would be the only thing the club would have to pay, since the cow could be kept on the agricultural department farm, and at the end of the year, it would be sold.

Also discussed was supplying name plates over the teachers' doors and the possibility of contributing to the faculty scholarship fund.

OFFERED, COAST GUARD CADET APPOINTMENTS

The U. S. Coast Guard this year offered Cadet appointments to the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn to 28 Florida high school seniors for the Academy class of 1968. 28 were selected from among the state's 230 applicants for cadetship.

The Coast Guard pointed out that even more appointments might have been made had not 58 of the 230 applicants either taken the wrong entrance examination or failed to take any test.

High school seniors are reminded by the Coast Guard that they must take the College Entrance Examination Board (CEB) test next December 5 to be considered for Coast Guard Cadet appointment.

Last year was the first time the Coast Guard used the CEB tests for its competitive entrance examination. Formerly the service administered its own tests, which may account for the number who failed to take the CEB test.

The Coast Guard Academy is a four year degree granting institution. Cadets completing the course are commissioned Ensigns in the Coast Guard and awarded a Bachelor of Science degree.

Finances Discussed By Library Club

Money making projects were discussed at the Library Club's last meeting.

Plans were made to help with the food booth at the Seacrest game and to have a rummage sale sometime during the year. One hundred dollars was made available for the library through the Department of Adult and Veteran Education.

Much of this will be spent for hard-back editions of books.

The club, which has approximately twenty members, elected their officers as follows: president, Ellen Kees; vice-president, Henry Molina; secretary-treasurer, Sandra Berts; Kathy Morris and reporter, Julie Burnette.

The members quality by working in the library before, during and after school, at noon hours, and during the break.

Only the students who could not be scheduled for six subjects work during class hours.

Not more than two students work each period. There is still a library assistance available for fourth and fifth periods.

Co-Editors Are Selected For 1964-65 Ram-Page

Irene Ashley and Mark Bush are the editors of the RAM-PAGE for the 64-65 school year. They were selected by the Journalism class on the basis of their interest and ability.

Besides her most recent honor of being chosen co-editor, Irene is active in several school activities. She is the secretary of the Beta Club and vice president of F. H. A. Irene was also one of the representatives sent to Girls State in Tallahassee this summer from the junior class.

Mark is a new face to be seen around campus this year. He came to us from Jacksonville, Florida where he attended Landon High. Originally, Mark is from Illinois where he lived until 1959. He is a member of the Art Club. Mark's comments on Belle Glade High were that he thought it was a friendly school in which he had already gotten to know many friends.

The editors make assignments each week and see that they are written. They proofread, rewrite, write headlines, write outlines for pictures, and lay out the page. Altogether the editors spend approximately two hours a week outside of school - at the Belle Glade Herald.

Irene and Mark, both being seniors, are well qualified for their leading positions and their shall be proven by their work as capable editors.

At Friday's pep rally, the resolutions were presented. The student body is expected to pay proper respect to them.

Art Club Adds Members

At the third meeting of the Versatile Art Club last Thursday evening, President, John Moulton, assisted by Mrs. Sawwood, assigned each member to the respective concession stands for the Belle Glade game.

Committees were formed to decorate the various bulletin boards around school, and work on the Halloween decorations for the library was started.

Two new members were added to the role during Thursday night's meeting. They are Susan Corsept and Mark Bush. With these two, the membership was increased to 14. Throughout the year, other members will be added to the club.

Plans are being discussed for a mosaic to be placed on the south wall of the patio. Many ideas are being considered but no definite plans have been made.

Have You Ever Wondered?

Why Ronnie Cook isn't a teacher's pet?

Why we don't bring towels to school to take naps?

Why Gary Walker keeps his mouth open constantly in class?

Why Donald Bailey & Don Wilkerson are always together?

Why Dee Dee & Janet both have long hair?

Why Johnny S. sees in Patsy P?

I saw those rams and Indians fighting. Now, when that fight was over, then Indians had 23 rams skins, and the rams didn't get any Indians. I figured they were saving the best for last.

In Appreciation Of Me

I love the RAM-PAGE. I think it's great. On Thursday I run pell mell get my copy. And read each line.

The stories and columns I think are fine. I laugh at the jokes. I read about the lads. I read about the lads.

I take up the fads. When I praise the RAM-PAGE, I scorn those who laugh. I'm really most loyal - I'm on the staff. Courtesy

Junior Civitan Group Organized

Yes Sir, She's Some Purrty Gal

I was just riding around, just riding around, just riding around, when it happened. Just minding my own business, just riding around, when I went by this big cream-colored building.

There was a bunch of people inside, and they were all yelling "RAM-S!" I figured it was a ram race. I never saw a ram race before, so I decided to go in and see it.

Well, I snuck up to the big door and looked inside, and I saw eight of the purtiest rams in yellow suits that I ever saw. All of them were waving these big balls of yellow and blue hay.

All at once, the ram in the middle yelled, "Two Bits!" and sorta backed off because I wasn't sure what kind of a word that was. Then they yelled something about some girl named Belle Glade. She must be awful purtty because every-one stood up and screamed.

All at once all eight of the yellow rams came running at me, so I lit out for my blue convertible. Now, I'm not a very fast runner, so these eight rams got to my car the same time I did.

I jumped in my car and started it up, but just as I did, all them rams started yelling something about killing Indians. Now, I'm not chicken, but I just didn't go for this, so I decided to leave.

Just as I started off pulled-in these bubble-gum salesman. At least, that's what I thought he was because he had one of the machines in his roof. He said, "Follow me!" Now, I don't take much to taking orders, but he was wearing a "water gun pistol," so I decided to follow him. He led us all around town.

Fertilizer Use World-Wide Trend

Doyle Conner, Commissioner of Agriculture reports: "Estimates of future world need for fertilizers run into huge figures. To cope with soaring populations and inadequate food production, nations all over the globe will be trying to squeeze every possible pound of food from every acre that can be cultivated."

"As a consequence, the fertilizer industry is due to become one of the largest and most important of our American enterprises. So, when it became apparent that U. S. reserves of potash, an important fertilizer ingredient, were dwindling, prospecting was increased to locate new sources."

"Like the huge iron deposits discovered a few years ago in its northeastern wilderness, Canada has come up with the answer."

"For crop and pasture land, the U. S. averaged in 1953 about 60 pounds per acre. West German farms averaged about seven times that amount."

On the other hand, per-acre use in Russia was only about one fourth the U. S. figure. That's one reason Khrushchev is pushing construction and purchasing of plants to produce agricultural chemicals."

Florida uses more pesticides than any other state on the eastern seaboard and is second only to California in volume of produce grown and shipped. Yet we have the lowest percentage of any state, in relation to volume of shipments, for Federal violations of pesticide contamination in food products.
